Brainstorming: Lower policy risk, greater accountability of regulators to boost investments

IRB C Bank non-executive chairman Rajiv Lal led the ball rolling by arguing that, while the tax cuts were welcome, what was required most was policy certainty/predictability and greater accountability of regulatory agencies.

Risk of doing business is the real issue

The government is taking several steps to boost confidence, the tax cuts being the latest. But, as our panel points out, the costs and risks of doing business must be urgently addressed. The issue of financing both debt, and equity is also quite real.
